MIDNIGHT.

NEW YORK.

Robber Tweed's Case.

TAMMANY CLERKS DISCHARGED.

The Election Frauds.

Death of a Tammany Club.

DEMOCRATIC REFORMATION.

NEW YORK, November 14, 1871.

THE CHIEF ROBBER'S CASE.

The probabilities of Tweed fleeing from the city are still the subject of much discussion. It is stated on very reliable authority that he has about perfected his arrangements for flight, and that any moment may witness his departure. Yesterday he was said to be trying to dispose of his stock in the Erie Railroad. Well-informed Tammanyites think it will take him some time to render portable his great wealth; but it is definitely known that most, if not all of his property has been undergoing conversion into greenbacks for a long while back, and that his many assignments make it a matter of ease for him to leave on short notice. Tweed's resignation is belived to be in the hands of Mayor Hall, and will probably be made public in a few days. No selection has yet been made to fill his place, though the Mayor has been endeavoring to force the office upon several. There is much difficulty in obtaining men to accept any of the vacant offices under Tammany since the election. The Mayor has been unable to get persons to take any of the several important places recently made vacant. There is so little time between now and the meeting of the next Legislature, when it is expected that the whole government of the city will be recast, that it is likely that the vacancies now existing will continue until that time.

DEMOCRATIC REFORMATION.

It has been determined to make the Apollo Hall Democratic Reform Organization, under whose auspices the late campaign was principally conducted, the leading institution of the Democracy in New York in the new organization. All the political elements of the Democracy are to be embraced. Those who have been prominent in connection with Tammany, however, will be excluded from membership. Since the election honest men are fast leaving Tammany, whose power seems to be completely overthrown. It is understood that Samuel G. Courtney will be chairman of the committee of the new organization. The Reform leaders are receiving hundreds of communications from prominent Democrats in the west and in the interior of the State, urging the formation of a new organization upon a reform basis, and rejoicing at the downfall of Tammany.

BAR ASSOCIATION.

The Bar Association adopted resolutions heartily confirming the verdict of the people in the late election. Recognizing the duties imposed on the association, they appointed a committee of twenty-one to prepare a draft of amendments required to the code of procedure and laws relating to judicial administration.

The Judiciary Committee was instructed to enquire into the charges reflecting on the administration of justice in this city, and to procure evidence in regard to it. The Committee on Extortions was directed to enquire into the practice of making illegal exactions and other abuses in public offices, State and Federal, connected with the administration of justice.

ELECTION FRAUDS.

A member of the Brooklyn Investigating Committee states that there is conclusive evidence that Booth, the Republican candidate for Mayor, was counted out fraudulently. The Brooklyn Board of Aldermen yesterday increased their committee to canvass votes, and finding evidence of fraud, have notified the Election Inspectors to appear before them.

Alexander Frear said yesterday that even if he was not counted out of his seat in the Legislature, he would not take it. He added that no Tammany Democrat, who was elected to the State Senate or Legislature, would go to Albany this winter.

FATAL COLLISION.

A train on the New Jersey Railway ran into a Hudson City horse car at Newark avenue crossing this evening. There were ten or twenty inmates, of whom two were fatally and six dangerously injured. The names of those known are Jno. Miller, Wm. S. Blake, Geo. Aldrich, John Bierch, Sarah Bierch and Wm. Murray. The driver jumped from the car and has not since been heard from. The accident is said to be the result of criminal carelessness on the part of the keeper of the gate at the crossing, whose name is Thomas Lannegan, and who disappeared.

OFFICIAL CANVASS.

The Board of Supervisors began to day the official canvass. They finished the count of six wards. It has been determined to postpone the canvass on the Aldermanic ticket until Monday next. The Committee of Seventy adopted a resolution thanking the investigating committee, of which W. A. Booth is chairman, for having brought to light positive proof of extensive fraud.

A DASTARDLY ACT.

At three o'clock to-day as Frederick Dacosta, editor of the Spanish paper Cronista, was passing the corner of Exchange Place and Broadway, a Cuban, name unknown, threw a large tin pail full of filth into his face and escaped. Dacosta stood with blinded eyes until some gentlemen put him in a cab.

THE ERIE KING'S SUIT.

In the Fisk-Mansfield injunction suit Judge Brady, of this city, granted an order to show cause why Judge Pratt's order recalling the case to Brooklyn should be set aside. The argument will be heard to-day. There is every indication of protracted and exciting litigation growing out of these proceedings.

ERIE STOCKS.

United States Commissioner White has ordered the Erie Company to prepare six thousand stock certificate duplicates of the shares originally placed in the hands of a receiver, and send them to his (White's) office before one o'clock on the 23d, to be then delivered to the attorney of Heath and Raphael.

THE CHARITABLE INSTITUTIONS.

THE RIVERSIDE PARK.

A new point to-day was brought up in the Riverside Park case, that all State laws allowing the Commissioners to assess damages are void under the fourteenth article of the Institution, the defendants claiming that awards must be made by a jury. Decision reserved.

The Attorney General states that although he might differ with Governor Hoffman in the prosecution of the Tammany frauds, yet he will retain Charles O'Connor in the criminal suits.

There was a strong northeast gale with heavy rain all the evening. There are no arrivals from the sea. Marine disasters are feared. The telegraph is working poorly in all directions.

THE LAKE SHORE AND TUSCARAWAS RAILROAD.

Is to be formally opened to Medina on the 15th of November. A grand celebration is to take place at Medina, which has as yet been without railway connections.

THE KNOXVILLE AND KENTUCKY ROAD.

A correspondent of the Cincinnati Commercial, writing from Knoxville, Tenn., says: Everything is quiet here for the present, except the building and the railroad interests. If Tom Scott goes forward and does what it is reported he will do, and what is expected of him, his name will become as common a household word in East Tennessee as that of General Burnside, and he will be considered almost as great a benefactor among the people of this section. The long hoped for direct communication with Cincinnati is now considered a sure thing, and that at an early day. The Knoxville and Kentucky road having passed into new hands (A. B. Johnson & Co., under control of the Pennsylvania Central), work, it is said, will be resumed in the spring and the road pushed to an early completion. Thirty-nine miles, reaching to the foot of the Cumberland mountain, are already completed and in running order. This portion of the road, which is very poorly built, will be cut down in grade and brought up to the condition of a first class road. In the purchase of the road the rights of counties holding stock were respected, and the present company are said to favor the taking of local stock. This will secure a harmony of action in the important work of completing the road, which is much desired. Other railroad projects of great importance to Knoxville are spoken of.

THE CAIRO AND FULTON RAILROAD.

The St. Louis Dispatch says: Of all the railroads tributary to St. Louis, not one lends greater promise to add wealth and importance to our city, than the Cairo and Fulton road, of Arkansas. The election of Mr. Thomas Allen to the Presidency of the road, two weeks since not only insures its completion to Fulton and Red River at at the earliest practical moment of time, but effectually carries with it in our favor, the influence of the road in a discriminating freight tariff for St. Louis.

THE C. & F. Railroad connects with the Iron Mountain Railroad in Butler county, in this State, strikes White River at Jacksonville, thence ninety miles to Little Rock; and thence through the heart of a rich country to Fulton, on Red River, 480 miles from St. Louis; developing one of the most productive and wealthy sections of the Southern country, the people of which are looking anxiously to this city as their future market. The I. M. R. R., as we know, is completed to a point fifty miles below Pilot Knob, striking the Black River valley. Men are at work grading the road from that point to the State line, 50 miles below. Twenty miles of the road from Little Rock, northwardly, are in operation, and thirty miles more to Little Red River are graded, on which the iron will be laid by the first of next Janaary. At Fulton the C. & F. R. R., connects with the International Railroad running through Texas on a southwesterly course to Laredo, on the Mexican boundary line, which will open a vast extent of country and bring a trade to our doors hitherto unthought of. The objective point of this road though not determined upon, is possibly on the Pacific coast at Mazatlin. The completion of the road to Fulton opens the vast commerce of Red, Ouchita, Arkansas, White and Little Red rivers to our merchants, and the road built for fifty miles in the direction of Fort Smith, will assist in bringing to us that trade from the Indian Nation southeast of the Atlantic & Pacific road.

The C. & F. Railroad has a land grant of two millions of acres in Arkansas, which, together with the road-bed and rolling stock, have been mortgaged to secure the payment of the bonds of the road. Major James M. Loughborough, for years connected with the Iron Mountain road in some most important trusts, has been appointed Land Commissioner for the C. & F. R. R., and will in a few weeks take up his permanent residence in Little Rock, as the central headquarters of the company.

Va., had suffered a heavy loss, put at $60,000, in consequence of two important failures of oil dealers in Pittsburgh, connected with the bull ring of 1869, is entirely without foundation. He strongly advocates perseverance in an effort in the interest of social progress and reform.

PERSIA.

THE FAMINE.

NEW YORK, November 14.—In a letter in the London Times of the 1st inst., from Persia, an English official states that the people there are more emaciated and needy than ever. At least two thousand five hundred distressed and starving persons besiege the English residency for food every morning, and on one occasion, in their frantic rush for something to satisfy the cravings of hunger, actually trampled and crushed two women to death. Infants and young children are lying about the streets so emaciated and skeleton-like as to be scarcely recognizable as human beings.

A PROJECT for uniting the Black and Caspian Seas by a canal, according to the plan of Capt. Blum, is engaging the attention of the Russian Government. The cost is estimated at about $50,000,000.

A SEWAGE scheme has been adopted by the Corporation of Birmingham, England, to exclude injurious matter from the sewers, and to purify the sewage by filtration upon an area of nine hundred acres of land. The cost of the scheme is estimated at $1,500,000.

A GROUP of Legitimists have subscribed for a gold pen value 50,000 francs, to be presented to the Count De Chambord on New Year's day. The pen is already made, and exhibited privately by M. Langlois, the artist who executed a design for a sword of honor which Marshal MacMahon declined to receive.

A VERY fine specimen of the rough diamond, as found at the Cape of Good Hope, was recently offered at a jewelry sale in London. The stone weighed over twenty-three carats, and appeared to give every promise of becoming, under the cutter's hand, a fine brilliant. It was knocked down, after a sharp competition at $3,350.

THE Emperor of Brazil visited the great Italian novelist, Manzoni, recently. After the aged Manzoni had expressed gratitude for the honor done him, the Emperor replied, "It is I who feel honored in having been received by you. Ages to come will remember Alessandro Manzoni, whilst a few years will efface the memory of Don Pedro d'Alcantara."

NEXT summer the hundreth anniversary of the union of West-Prussia with the Prussian State will be celebrated in that Province. Festivities are to be held in all the principal towns, but Marienberg will be the chief seat of the patriotic demonstration. It is proposed to erect a statue of Frederick the Great there, the expense of which is estimated at 27,000 thalers. Both a scientific and a popular history of the Province will also be published on this occasion.

A COMMUNIST by the name of Marigot, who appears to have played a very varied role during the insurrection, has just been condemned to death at Versailles. Marigot, who was formerly a corporal in the army, was in prison when the revolt broke out; he was forced to join the Commune; he was instrumental in saving the Bank, the Theatre Francais, and several private houses, from destruction, and yet he fought with such obstinacy against the regulars that out of the eight hundred men he commanded, seven hundred were killed or wounded.

THE Munich correspondent of the Gazzetta d'Italia observes that one result of the late war has been to obliterate almost completely the anti-Prussian feeling which formerly prevailed in the south of Germany. "Bavaria," he says, "by allying herself with Prussia, has reaped important advantages, and every one perceives that the policy of Prince Bismarck has not only benefited Prussia but entire Germany. Hence, not only has open aversion to Prussia disappeared but we may say that the anti-Prussian party is at present microscopic. The soldiers who return from the campaign covered with glory are Prussia's enthusiastic partizans."

A FARMER lately died in East-Prussia who is said to have attained his hundred and thirtieth year. Down to the time of his death he was in the enjoyment of the best health. He was six feet one inch in height, and served as body guard under Frederick the Great. His son, who lives on his father's property, is a hundred and nine years old. He takes long walks every day, can read without spectacles, and is an excellent companion. The nephew of the old man is employed on the East Prussian railway, and though he is seventy-two years of age, he is able punctually to perform his duties, which include the laborious night-service. He has twenty-one children, sixteen boys and five girls.

PRESIDENT THIERS, when receiving the members of the Council-General of the Seine-et-Oise on the 27th ult., said: "It is asserted that I am not a Republican by conviction, but at all events I am one from duty. France has entrusted me with the republic, and I am endeavoring to preserve it by the ideas of order and legality, which are reassuring to Europe. I am more Republican than those who call themselves Republicans and who make of the republic an object of anxiety and dread; and I address myself to Republicans when I say, 'Help me to establish the republic by means of order, and do not expose the French nation to the chance of being regarded as a nation which is incompetent to govern itself.'"

THE new French "Dictionnaire de l'Academie," which is now being prepared, will consist, like the earlier editions, of two volumes, but of much larger size, and with greatly increased contents. It is expected that the first volume, down to the letter E, inclusively, will be completed about the middle of 1872, and it will be about three or four years before the second is published. The work is brought out under the direction of M. Patin, who has for his principal collaborateurs, among the Academicians, M. de Sacy, M. Saudeau, M. Camille Doucet, now relieved from his duties as dramatic censor, and M. Mignet, the author of the "Histoire de la Revolution Francaise." This new edition will be the seventh edition of this famous dictionary.

A VALUABLE relic of antiquity has, says the Levant Herald, lately been discovered in the grounds of the Russian pilgrim's monastery, outside the walls of Jerusalem. It is a monolith cut out of a single block and only half complete. From a description in the history of Flavius Josephus, it is believed to be a column intended for the decoration of the ancient Temple of Solomon, but that as the column split while it was worked, it was left unfinished, the lower part of it remaining in a rough unhewn state. The monolith, which is about thirty-nine feet in length by six in diameter, will certainly prove an object of keen interest to archaeologists, and it is to be hoped that it will be retained in a place of safety—the pillage of monuments of antiquity in the East being now systematic.

M. TAINE, who is writing interesting letters to the Paris Temps on English social life, thus discourses of the English Church: "There are three distinct parties in this official Church. The most aristocratic, the most authoritative, most attached to ceremonial is that which is called High Church; the other, the most popular, most impassioned, the best fitted to operate for the conversion and the renewal of the heart, is that which is called Low Church. Both are somewhat narrow and little flexible, leaving room beside them for a liberal party, the Broad Church, which includes the most eminent minds, the most conciliatory, those most capable of reconciling science with faith. Thanks to these, the gulf which separates the thoughts of laymen from the ecclesiastic traditions ceases to be impassable."

"Some fishermen," says the Constitutionnel, "brought up in a sweep-net, a few days ago, near the Pont Royal, a shapeless mass covered with sand and shells, which they sold for a few francs to a dealer in antiquities on the Quai Voltaire. When the purchaser had carefully removed the earthy envelope, he discovered that he had in his possession an antique vase of the purest style. It is of an ovoid form, and the embossing represents a dance of satyrs and bacchantes beautifully executed. The material of which the work is composed is the Corinth bronze, the secret of which has been lost, and which in Seneca's time, was already worth several times its weight in gold. The valuable object just found is supposed to date from the occupation of Lutetia by the legions of Cæsar and Labienus."

THE Belgian journals relate that a horrible murder was committed on October 22d, at Sempt, a village between Vilvorde and Malines, by a woman named Popelu on the person of her husband, a wood-sawyer, aged between thirty-five and forty. For some time past she had been observed by the neighbors to be laboring under violent excitement, caused, as it was supposed, by jealousy. On October 21st there had been an altercation between the man and his wife, but they retired to rest as usual. But at four in the morning the woman rose, and, taking up a large hatchet, dealt her husband such a blow on the head that death was almost instantaneous. The eldest of three little girls, aged six, who slept in the room, being awakened by the noise, asked her mother what she had done, and the mother replied, without any emotion, "I have killed your father." At six the girl went out to inform the neighbors, and the woman took to flight. She was soon after traced to a small wood near the village. On finding herself discovered, she threw herself into a stream to avoid being captured, but was taken out and secured.

LOUISVILLE.

The Park Murder.

LOUISVILLE, November 14.—Last night citizens of Henrysville, Ind., near where the brutal murder of the Park family occurred on Saturday night last, put a rope around the neck of Geo. Johnson, a negro implicated in the murder, and telling him that the crime had been traced to his hands, demanded to know his accomplices. Johnson, thinking that all had been discovered, made a full confession. Two negroes named Taylor and Davis planned the murder with himself, believing that Park had about four or five hundred dollars belonging to a church in his house. Johnson says he watched on the outside; Davis held the light, and Taylor committed the bloody deed. He says his partners refused to divide fairly with him. They got only one hundred and forty dollars. The whereabouts of his accomplices was learned, and a party immediately started to effect their arrest, which was done. The excitement was so great that the officers had to take the murderers through the woods to avoid a mob, and bring them to Jeffersonville, where they were lodged in jail.

HELD TO BAIL.

Wiley Miller, of Jessamire county, Ky., was to-day held in $2,500 bail by the United States Commissioner, charged with shooting with intent to kill Sam Strang, colored.

TRAIN'S LECTURE.

George Francis Train lectured here to-night to a large audience, which received his speech with great applause.

ST. LOUIS.

Another Bridge Across the Mississippi River.

ST. LOUIS, November 14.—A party of practical builders now in the city have made a proposition to construct a span bridge across the Mississippi river at Carondolet or South St. Louis, six miles south of the court house, and agree to complete it within two years at a cost not to exceed two million dollars. Three railroad companies have already expressed their willingness to enter into an agreement, and negotiations are now pending to secure the co-operation of one or more roads terminating at East St. Louis. There is every indication that the work will commence in a short time. Preparations have already been made to construct a branch road from Laclede Station, on the Atlantic and Pacific Railroad, to Carondolet, to connect with the iron furnace there. Large stock yards will also be constructed there, and the necessity for a bridge at that point is becoming imperative.

Church Statistics.

CINCINNATI, November 14.—From statistics furnished by a committee appointed to report on Presbyterianism in Cincinnati, it appears that within the city limits, and including Cummensville, there are eighteen churches, three thousand five hundred and three members, and from twelve to fourteen thousand under the spiritual care of these organizations. The church edifices are estimated to be worth $900,000. The average annual expense for maintaining the churches is about $70,000, or twenty dollars per member.

Suit Compromised.

MILWAUKEE, November 14.—It is understood that the suit of Lawson vs. the city of Kenosha, to realize on city bonds, has been compromised, the terms of which are not stated.

THE WEATHER.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 14, 1871.

THE ANTICIPATED METEORIC SHOWER.

The chief signal officer at Washington reports that several meteors were seen between one and two o'clock this morning. The weather throughout the country, however, being cloudy or rainy, it was unfavorable for observation of the anticipated meteoric shower.

WEATHER PROBABILITIES.

The lowest pressure will probably advance northeastwardly. Brisk southeast winds will prevail to-night on the New England coast and Lake Ontario, the latter backing to the northwest; increasing northwest winds on Lakes Erie and Huron; increasing southwest winds on the south Atlantic coast. Partially cloudy and clear weather will probably prevail in the Southern and Gulf States, and on the upper lakes; clearing weather in the middle States; cloud and rain in New England; wind on the coast, veering from the east to the southwest. Cautionary signals will continue this evening at Milwaukee, Grand Haven, Detroit, Chicago, Toledo, Cleveland, Buffalo, and Oswego; also at Savannah, Charleston, Wilmington, Baltimore, Cape May, New York, New London, Boston and Portland.

SWINDLER ARRESTED.

A man named Hoover was arrested at the Treasury Department for obtaining money on false pretenses. It appears he represented to some ladies that he would, for a pecuniary consideration, obtain them situations in the Department, and informed others employed there that charges had been prepared against them, but for certain sums of money he would have the charges withdrawn. Several ladies were duped by the swindler.

FINANCIAL RECOMMENDATION.

It is officially stated that Secretay Boutwell in his next report will strongly recommend necessary legislation for the payment in Europe of the interest on so much of the new loan as is or may hereafter be placed abroad. This, it is claimed and believed, will greatly extend the European market for United States securities.

CABINET MEETING.

At a meeting of the Cabinet this afternoon only the usual routine business was considered, except some interchange of views in regard to selecting a proper person for appointment as counsel of the United States Government before the Geneva Covetinon in place of Curtiss, declined.

APPOINTED.

The President has appointed Nelson J. Turry, of Ohio, as a member of the Indian Commission, to fill the vacancy created some time ago by the resignation of Senator Lane, of Indiana. Turry is a wealthy farmer, well known in Ohio.

BALANCES IN TREASURY.

The balances in the Treasury at the close of business to-day are: Coin, $93,817,108; currency, $7,539,552; coin certificates $18,744,900.

ESTIMATES RECEIVED.

Estimates for appropriations for several departments are received at the Treasury and being put in proper form for the Secretary's use.

CIVIL SERVICE.

The Civil Service Commission was engaged to-day in the consideration of the proper mode of constituting a Board of Examiners.

MEETING OF COMMISSION.

The American and British Commission met to-day, but owing to the absence of Judge Frazier no business was transacted.

MINNESOTA.

Election Returns.

ST. PAUL, November 14.—The official returns of the late election are not all in, but enough are in to show that Governor Austin will have a majority of at least 13,000. It has now reached 10,660, and the press estimates of the districts from which no returns have been received will give 2,800 more. The Legislature stands, on joint ballot, 101 Republicans to 46 Democrats. The Senate stands 31 Republicans to 10 Democrats, and the House 70 Republicans to 36 Democrats.

THE FIRST SNOW.

The first snow of the season fell yesterday, to the depth of about one inch and a half. The weather this morning is cold.

Assuming that the total assets of the suspended companies will be absorbed by the Chicago losses of those companies, and that the losses of those continuing business will be paid in full, the result is that $20,724,457 of fire insurance capital is withdrawn from this State.

Those companies which have sustained an impairment of capital have generally taken steps, with every prospect of speedy success, to secure a full repairment thereof. Stockholders are responding with commendable promptness to the calls for the payment of deficiencies. It is confidently hoped that the 1st of January will find all in good condition, and with unimpaired capitals.

This statement is limited entirely to companies organized under the laws of the State. The returns from the companies of other States and countries have not been received in sufficient numbers to warrant the publication of results.

GEORGE W. MILLER, Superintendent.

THE Paris Siecle says: "Some of our contemporaries encumber their columns with detailed accounts of what the wretched man, who formerly sat on the throne of France, and who disgraced our country more than Louis the Fifteenth ever did, has to say about the present state of affairs in France. They evidently are unaware of the fact that the people of France care very little about what the person has to say on any subject. They take more interest in what is going on in Berlin and New York, than in the insipid and egotistical utterances of the exile of Chiselhurst."

SINCE D. D. Home has married another rich Russian lady it is presumed he will continue to keep up his spirits. It is somewhat singular that she should have consented to share his lot in life, when he had only a medium home to offer.—N. Y. Evening Post.

—The Georgia Legislature yesterday elected, by an overwhelming majority, Hon. Thomas M. Norwood, a moderate Democrat, of Savannah, to the United States Senate.

GOOD judges of malt liquors say that Pier, Dannals & Co.'s bottled ales and porter are not only much cheaper, but also much better than the numerous brands of imported English ale and porter, sold in American markets.

What Women Like in Men.

Women, though they may not always indicate them in the choice of their husbands, have a very decided preference among men. It may be supposed that mere masculine beauty of form and feature would be sure of commanding a woman's attention and securing her affection; but all experience disproves this. Some of the most successful suitors of the female sex have been noted for their ugliness. The coarse, distorted face of the fierce Mirabeau, the leering eye and slavering mouth of the noted Wilkes, and the dwarfed, skulking figure of the intriguing Burr, were no obstacles to their wooing and winning the most beautiful women. Wilkes boasted, while he confessed himself the ugliest man in England, that he only required half an hour's talk with a woman to get the better of the handsomest fellow in the company. It was certainly not the beauty of face or figure which was the attraction that drew women to the embrace of these ugly but noted men. What pleases woman in man above all things is his devotion to her. The failure of the handsome fellows to gain her affection is thus easily accounted for. He is sure to be a coxcomb, and so absorbed in the contemplation of his own personal attractions as to give little heed to those of the other sex. The ugly gallant is not diverted by any self-admiration from his devoirs to female beauty, and thus gives up his whole soul to his worship; and whatever may be his shortcomings in other respects, he is forgiven, and receives the full reward of the faithful.

Woman, too, are apt to take fondly to those men who are notable. They are ambitious; and by associating themseives with those who are disinguished, they seem to share in their brilliancy of reputation. Leaders of the people, such as Mirabeau and Wilkes, are surrounded by just that kind of eclat which dazzle the eye of woman and lures her on.

The secret of successful courtship is constant devotion rather than brilliancy or strategy.

M. JULES FERRY is once more announced as Minister to Washington, by the Paris press. This time there is a shadow of truth in the rumor.

IN VALENCIA, Spain, the bakers, are on a strike for higher wages, and would not be quieted until a force of cavalry was sent against them resulting in loss of life. This appears to be the rule, just now, throughout Europe, and in most cases the strikes result in blood-shed.

THE STORIES afloat concerning the Pope, are very conflicting and therefore unreliable. One makes him intend to shortly announce himself sole King of Rome, in spite of the coming of Victor Emanuel, whilst another intimates that he will soon vacate the Eternal City of the seven hills, and take up his residence at the Castle of Pau, among the Pyrenees, in France, under the advice of President Thiers. We imagine that he will do neither; but like a pious prelate, he will continue where he is, satisfied with presiding over the spiritual affairs of the Church, and gratified that he is relieved of all troubles necessarily attendant upon temporal matters.

ABOUT as graceless an action as we have ever had to chronicle, was that of certain Chicago Germans who had a meeting in which they landed themselves for what they had done for the relief of their countrymen during the late war, and then reviled the Emperor and Crown Prince of Germany because they contributed but fifteen hundred dollars in aid of Chicago, and resolved to refuse to receive the money and send it back with an insulting message to the imperial donors.

The Emperor and his son were not obliged to give anything, and yet they gave, and fifteen hundred dollars is no small sum for the ruler of one country to give, unasked, to the citizens of a town in another land. It might have been more or it might have been less, but such as it was, it was spontaneous generosity, and as such should have been thankfully received. The men who resolved not to receive it, are, we trust, not of enough influence among the people whom they profess to represent, to succeed in carrying out their insolent plan. They are, we presume, of that small, conceited class, who, because they hate all governments which put other persons over them, and hope to gain untold millions by the overthrow of all existing institutions and the revolution of all things, profess to despise the Emperor and to disdain his gift. We have some such amongst us here, but they have neither influence nor constituency, and we suppose it is the same with them in Chicago.

We presume that there, as here, these fellows clamorously endeavor to push themselves forward as the representatives of their German fellow citizens, by whom they are despised, ridiculed and disowned. The German Correspondent, published in Berlin, shows the feeling which existed there in the following words:

"When the startling news arrived by telegraph that one half of a great and flourishing American city had been suddenly destroyed by fire, an effect was produced throughout Germany which the harrowing details we continue to receive of the suffering and destitution to which thousands of our fellow-creatures have been subjected have still further heightened and intensified. The whole German press, and especially the official journal the Reichsanzeiger, commented in the most sympathetic language on the magnitude of the disaster, and reminded their countrymen of the generous aid they not long since received from America, and which had so largely contributed to mitigate the horrors of war and afford relief and consolation to its victims. A Chicago Relief Committee was at once formed, and while we do not a moment question the readiness and ability of Americans to do everything for their countrymen which, under the circumstances, humanity and kindness can suggest, it is gratifying to us to find an opportunity of furnishing an inadequate proof of the sympathy for the American people which animates the German nation, its press and its readers."

A state of feeling which is certainly greatly to be preferred to the one which would assuredly ensue upon the receipt of the insolent rejection of their bounty

THE WATER COMMISSION.

In the election of Messrs. D. W. C. Carroll, Robert Watson, P. H. Laufman, Hill Bargwin and Simon Beymer, as water commissioners, under the new ordinance, we are promised an energetic, faithful, and competent administration of affairs, within the scope of their appointment. The work of constructing the new water works, basins, and other necessary appliances, under the plans adopted by councils some time ago, is a herculean task, and one that will necessarily demand the closest attention and the most practical judgment, on the part of the commissioners. That they are fully competent for the task, we do not doubt, and we hope that they will be able to devote sufficient time to a thorough supervision of the entire work, as well as to the care of superintending the sub-contracting, and a thorough examination into the expenditures as they progress. The utmost care is demanded, in order that the people may be satisfied with the work when completed, and when the total cost shall be made known. We cannot see why the entire work should cost over two million dollars, if so much, and we hope to find, in due time, that through the care of the Commissioners, the whole cost has amounted to less than that sum.

By the way, as it will be some time before the Water Commission can get fairly to work, under the present plans, would it not be well for them to spend some of the intervening time in the study, as to the possibility or practicability of uniting the populations on the north and south of us, in this great water system which we are about to establish? Why should not this people (we mean the people within the limits of the two cities, and the adjoining boroughs) not unite in building a water works which can supply all the water needed for the next twenty to forty years? If Pittsburgh expends two millions in this way, it will not be many years before Allegheny will be required to make a similar outlay, and after the four millions are expended, the South Side will probably be still unsupplied with water. We hope our Commissioners will look into this matter, and endeavor to have it effected as hinted at above. Surely if one million, or half a million, can be saved to our tax-payers in this way, without interfering with a plentiful supply of water for all, we ought to use all our efforts to accomplish it. Let a conference be held with the authorities, the City Council of Allegheny, and at least ascertain their wishes in the matter.

THE LIBEL UNFOUNDED.

Any one needing a powerful and certain emetic is recommended to read the article in yesterday's Pittsburgh Commercial headed "About Libel Suits." This community remembers quite well the history of the "Quay-Commercial" difficulty, which had its origin in repeated scandalous and vile charges made against the character and integrity of Col. M. S. Quay, of Beaver county, by the Commercial of this city. The public were informed by that sheet that this gentleman was a cold blooded, heartless scamp, and charges against his personal and official character were repeated from day to day, until a suit for libel was brought against the paper, and thus its scurrility in that direction was stopped. After the lapse of years we are now treated to the sequel of this controversy, and the editor, who permitted the use of his columns, day after day, to blacken and defile the character of a citizen, now coolly informs us that:

"We certainly were not moved by motives of malice in the publication of the matter complained of; but it was the result of the combative feeling which self-respect inspires, and prompts one to lay hold of whatever means of legitimate defense may lay within his reach."

Oh no, of course not; nothing but the eternal good of the country could ever induce this model of propriety and rectitude to "pitch in" and defame a good name, in the absence of argument or reason. No "malice" whatever could have induced the editor to make charge after charge against the object of his hate; it was only "the result of the combative feeling" which "inspired him to lay hold of whatever means lay within" his reach. Of course in a controversy of the kind then going on, a man's character must not stand in the way, it must be blackened and smeared all over by charges of the basest description, in order that the combative element may have full vent. By destroying the character of a witness, he destroys also his evidence; and this is what prompted the editor aforesaid, doubtless.

But, strange to say, we are now told:

"Of course we had no personal knowledge whatever of the truth or falsity of the charges, or of the evidence on which they were supposed to rest."

Oh no, that was not necessary, we suppose, the charges need not be true; the editor could accomplish his purpose by publishing them to the world, whether TRUE OR FALSE. No matter whether true or false so that the end in view conld be gained, viz: that discredit wonld be thrown around the labors and efforts of Colonel Quay, and those who were with him in the work on hand, and that thereby they should be disgraced and punished for their opposition to the wishes, hopes, and aspirations of the opposite party. In addition to this motive for his editorial labors we are told further on, that our model, had a humanitarian objective point in view, and recognized his duty to rescue Col. Quay from impending destruction, by giving him such an infamous character, without regard to truth, mind you, that his evil associates, we presume, would at once avoid him.

"Our efforts in this direction were prompted not less by a sincere desire to do Colonel Quay justice."

We have heard of men being killed before now, by acts of kindness; and we here have a beautiful exhibition of an editor of a journal, claiming to be upright and respectable, ruining a man's character, or attempting to do so, by holding him up to public scorn and contempt, and characterizing him as utterly vile and hideous, and afterwards coolly telling us that his efforts were prompted by a SINCERE DESIRE to do the man "JUSTICE."

The editor of the Commercial after admitting that he had no personal knowledge of the truth or falsity of the charges he was daily making against the character of an American citizen, and admitting that they were simply the outburst of a combative nature, now writes:

"We have now to say that we have found no evidence of the truth of any of these charges."

What should be done with such an utterly reckless nature? Talk about the "Liberty of the Press," when such fellows are permitted to so grossly abuse the privileges granted to us. No man's character is safe in such hands, no cause is so sacred as to be safe from his pernicious touch.

He confesses over and over again that his vile utterances against Col. Quay were devoid of truth, and shows his utter recklessness in attacking his character and using the power of the Press to abuse and destroy him.

Again he says;

"As before stated, we have no personal knowledge of these matters; but after inquiry made, as we have stated, we have found no reason to believe, and do not personally believe that Col. Quay acted otherwise than honestly and with fidelity."

In closing his article, in which he acknowledges having done all that we charge him with, having abused his privileges as a journalist in attacking falsely the character of a citizen, and making charges against him without regard to their truth or falsity, he significantly adds:

"At the present time there is not the slightest ill-feeling between Col. Quay and the editor of this paper."

If this statement be true, and we are very much inclined to doubt it, and believe it on a par with those others which have been confessed false by this reckless man, it speaks well for the heart of the man who has been so much aggrieved. We are told that "to forgive is Divine," and if Col. Quay has forgiven the editor of the Pittsburgh Commercial, and taken him again to his bosom, and into his confidence, of one thing we are certain he is something other than human, if he cannot claim the attributes of Divinity.

A few words more and we shall close this article, which we have written in order that our readers, and our exchanges throughout the country may learn of the reconciliation which our cotemporary intimates has taken place between Colonel Quay and itself; may learn of the facts connected with the case which has heretofore been somewhat noted throughout the State; may learn the FALSENESS of the allegations made by the Commercial against the Colonel; and may now fully know that the charges of corruption made by the leader of the Allegheny county reform movement of last year, against the leaders of Republicanism in this section of the State, have been pronounced by their author, the editor of the Commercial, FALSE, and utterly without foundation in fact. What becomes of the charges made by this same sheet against State Treasurer Mackey, Russell Errett, James S. and Felix C. Negley? Are they false too? Come, neighbor, while your hand is in, make a clean breast of it. Do you now affirm or deny the statement made by you that "Mackey paid F. C. Negley his check for $2,500, in order to get him out of the way of Major Errett?

Do you now affirm or deny the many charges of corruption and abuse, made by you against the leaders of the Republican party, in this county, and by such means did all in your power to break up that party? In organizing your reform party, were you, or were you not honest and truthful, when you based your actions on the wish to break up the "Ring" which, to you, then appeared so base and detestable? Were your calumnies against the "Quay Mackey Ring," all false, and do you now confess them so? We do not forget the part assigned us, during all these years, and if you can succeed in shutting other's eyes, you will not succeed with us. We are ready to forgive, when we see a full avowal, and an open confession that all your past absurd opposition to the Republican party of Allegheny county, and its leaders, has been based upon the tissue of falsehoods of your own manufacture. We want a FULL unreserved confession, so that the public may know, that you had no grounds upon which to justify your revolt.

We have a duty to perform in this matter, a duty which we owe to the twenty thousand Republicans who endorsed our course during your little rebellion, and we propose to do it fearlessly, and in person, not by proxy. We hope the editor of the Commercial understands. The meeting which is to be held at his office on Tuesday next, may, or may not, have had something to do with his course of late; but no half-way confessions and promises for the future will suit us. THE REPUBLICAN PRESS of our STATE WANT REPUBLICAN EDITORS, and we want none but REPUBLICANS at their heads, in order that our efforts in the good work may not be misrepresented, our motives impugned, and our labors interfered with.

General Schenck Counted Out.

Nobody has forgotten the indignation of the honest Republicans of Ohio, last year, at the exclusion of the votes offered by the disabled soldiers of the Dayton Home, and the consequent defeat of General Schenck by a majority of 53 returned for Lewis D. Campbell. It now appears that General Schenck was really elected without the soldiers' vote, and that Campbell's apparent majority was the result of ballot-box stuffing in the Second ward of Hamilton by the notorious "Pete" Schwab, against whom an indictment has been found.

At the investigation held the facts divulged were briefly as follows: Sheriff Andrews saw Mr. S. standing by the ballot-box when the polls closed. In his one hand he held something looking like tickets; the other held the lid of the open box; the contents of the one hand were swiftly emptied into the box, the other hand closed the box with a snap. Schwab noticed that Andrews observed the movement, and after explaining to Andrews, and saying that the number of tickets put in was 52 or 53, Andrews enjoined the strictest secrecy. This took place in the room where the ballots had been voted during the day.

Nickel walked home with Schwab immediately after the polls closed. On the way Schwab explained to Nickel what he had done and requested him to have the same thing done at the Fourth ward polls. Nickel "was incredulous," to use his own expression, when Peter told him if he could not credit his statement to "ask Bob Andrews, who saw me do it." After supper the ballots were counted. At this time Cole came in, and observed mysterious movements on the part of Schwab, who had possession of the box. In taking out the ballots he arranged them in four convenient piles—straight Republican, straight Democratic, mixed Republican and mixed Democratic. Cole noticed that Schwab frequently carried his hand in his coat pocket, and Schwab explained to Cole that his hand was exceedingly weary with much handling of tickets, and it sought his pocket for needed rest. Cole was surprised, and Schwab finally asked him if he "sees how it is done," and on Cole answering affirmatively, Schwab cautioned him to say nothing to no man. The tickets Andrews saw Mr. S. put in the box were Campbell tickets; the tickets Cole saw him withdraw were Schenck tickets. To make the poll-books correspond with the ballots, a number equal to those he put in must be withdrawn; the confusion incident to the closing of the polls gave him the opportunity to put them in; the position he took while counting them out gave him ample facilities to transfer to his pocket an equal number; and to the testimony of the one who saw him put them in, and to that of the other who saw him take them out, we have Schwab's acknowledgement to Nickel that he did actually put them in.

On this evidence Schwab was held to await the action of the U. S. Grand Jury, which has now indicted him. After the evidence before the U. S. Commissioner became public, the Grand Jury of Butler county also found a similar indictment against Schawb for violating the State election law. It now looks as though Colonel Campbell may yet lose his seat in Congress.—N. Y. Tribune

Safety Railway Brakes.

Under the above heading we find the following communication in the American Railway Times of Boston, which shows that the great Pittsburgh brake is making progress, and earning appreciation in New England, as elsewhere:

Messrs. Editors:—I was much interested in the account of the hydraulic brake contained in your last number, and reminded of the atmospheric brake which I lately saw on the Kansas Pacific road, and which I am informed is used on some of our New England roads. The railroad corporations have now, it seems, the choice of two fluids, the elastic and the non-elastic, as mediums for the almost instantaneous application of friction to every wheel of their trains. Every drop of water and every breath of air will cry out against them, if they let another Revere accident occur.

As I stood on the platform at Kirkwood, Mo., the other day, waiting to take the cars, a train of six came along at such a speed that I thought it had no intention of stopping. Nevertheless, it did stop with its engine opposite to where I stood, and without any perceptible jar or recoil of the cars. Never having seen such a thing before, it took me aback as much as any miracle I can imagine. If that fatal Portland train could have stopped itself in that way, how many dead men might have been living to-day!

Inquiring into the cause, I found it the Westinghouse brake. This is a simple contrivance by which the steam pressure in the boiler of the locomotive is converted into equal air pressure in a reservoir or tank under the cab. The engineer, the first man to see danger ahead, has only to turn a cock, and quicker than twelve brakes could be applied by twelve brakemen, all on the alert, the thing is done. How suddenly and with how little fuss and noise the train stops is almost incredible. The time saved must be worth something. The wear of materials from concussion still more. What is saved in the services of brakemen must undoubtedly be expended in the first cost and care and repairs of the apparatus, for fluid media cannot be imprisoned and kept in working order without good mechanism and constant care, of which the locomotive itself is an example. It is enough to say that the apparatus, when in order, is as efficient as the laws of motion allow, and is as much superior to any possible perfection of hand brakes, as a one hundred horse power locomotive is superior to a team of one hundred horses. It can hardly be pretended that it is a more difficult problem to keep the atmospheric brake in full and complete working order, than to keep the locomotive itself in such order. What is the conclusion?

Is it not fairly this? That the time is near when it will be a capital crime to run a passenger train without an apparatus by which the engineer can instantly apply friction to every wheel of his train? And will not the corporation which allows such a thing to be done deserve to be proceeded against as having committed an assault with intent to kill?

ELIZUR WRIGHT.

BOSTON, Nov. 5, 1871.

The Home of Wendell Phillips.

The residence occupied by Wendell Phillips for many years, except during occasional summer absences from the city, is an old-time, exceedingly humble looking two-and-a-half story building, in Essex street, a cosy, sequestered nook in the heart of the city. The house, like almost all of the old style residences one meets with in Boston, smacking of revolutionary times and legends, is built close upon the street, with no grass plat or railing intervening between it and the narrow sidewalk. The door, approached by two steps from the pavement, is framed under a projecting arch of curious fashion of construction, with the name of "Phillips" rudely painted upon one of the panels. Possessing an income far beyond his simple expenditures, the receipts derived from his lecturing engagements, with all other superabundant means, are expended annually in deeds of charity. Of his silent, unostentatious gifts to the needy, much of which never reaches the ear of the public, who so loiters around among the humbler of the old residents of Boston will hear many affecting narrations.—[Letter to N. Y. Times.

Capital in the South.

The N. Y. Evening Post says: A Nashville journal opens with the following lament: "Nowhere in the Union is there a State that is suffering as much as Tennessee for the want of capital, and nowhere on this habitable globe is there a finer section of country without the use of it." The Carolinas and Georgia complain as much as Tennessee of the lack of capital. But there is one thing that the people who want northern capital so badly may as well recollect, and that is this: That a high rate of interest will not bring money half as fast as a guarantied protection of capital. To give this, some change in the laws is necessary, no doubt, for a very general opinion prevails that a lender in some States is very uncertain of living long enough to see his money again.

RHODE ISLAND is in favor of narrow gauge railroads, in order that both rails may lie within her territory.

Counting the Chicago Burnt Money

The work of sorting out and arranging whatever the fire was good enough to leave of monetary value in Chicago still goes on at the United States Treasury in Washington. Numbers of young ladies are employed in counting chance packages of currency, which seem ready to crumble at the touch. Bank notes, Treasury bonds, gold, silver, nickel, all are so scarred and blackened as to demand the most careful overhauling. In some cases three or four hundred bank notes are found melted together like postage stamps on a hot day, and the greatest care is necessary to avoid destroying the faces as they are separated. Every note which is decipherable, whose value can be determined, is redeemed. Magnifying glasses, acids and receptacles are used, and whenever a note falls to pieces, the shreds are all carefully pasted on prepared paper. The extent of the task may be imagined by remembering the fact that each National bank note must be put into condition, if possible, to return it to the bank which issues it, for redemption. The postage stamps, railroad bonds, government bonds and government bank notes are counted four times in as many different departments, before they are delivered. Large quantities of canceled notes are daily burned with much ceremony. The representatives of the offices where the counting has been going on, and the agents of the banks whose notes are to be burned are always required to be present. The doors of the furnace are ceremoniously unlocked. The notes are thrown in in presence of the witnesses, then the doors are relocked.

WHAT DYSPEPSIA MAY END IN.

Indigestion is not dangerous, say the faculty. Perhaps not in itself, while it remains mere indigestion; but look at the consequences to which it may lead, and often does lead when it becomes a chronic diseases. A spark of fire is a small thing. A pressure of the foot will put it out; a breath will extinguish it. Yet it may fire a powder mill, or kindle a flame that will consume a city. In like manner indigestion may produce gastritis, cancer of the stomach, congestion of the bowels, apoplexy, liver disease, and many other dangerous maladies. Is it not wise, then, to check it in the germ? Nothing is more clearly and indisputably established than that Hostetter's Stomach Bitters will eradicate dyspepsia in all its stages. The true policy, however, is to extinguish it in the first stages with this wholesome, powerful and infallible tonic and alterative. It is easier to quench a spark than a flame, and it is easier to cure dyspepsia when it is first developed, than when it has made headway by neglect, and becomes complicated with other ailments. There is not the shadow of a doubt that the bitters are as directly antagonistic to dyspepsia as water is to fire. There are thousands of cases on record proving this fact. The remedy is safe and agreeable. All the liquors of commerce prescribed as stimulants, leave a sting behind. But the sting is taken out of the spirituous basis of this great remedy by vegetable medication, and, morever, the stimulant thus medicated is of exceptional purity. Of all tonics taken as safeguards or remedies for fever and ague, bilious remittents, and other fall epidemics, it is the only one that can uniformly be depended upon.

Finance and Trade.

OFFICE OF THE PITTSBURGH GAZETTE, TUESDAY, November 14, 1871.

The demand for money shows but little abatement. The calls to-day were frequent, and borrowers seemed disposed to accept the rates named, where loans could be made at all, without dispute.

We presume that the fine rain we are getting to-day has inspired the hope that the pinch is about over, and what matters another turn or two on the screw when better times are so close at hand. The market can scarcely find much relief from coal shipments before the first of January, and returns from that source may be delayed beyond that time, so that appearances indicate a pretty active demand for loans far into the winter months.

The home market for bonds and stocks is inactive, and prices are generally a little lower. The banks who announce their dividends in November have kept up their reputation, and if dividends are good evidence of prosperity, they certainly cannot be badly struck with a decline. If their shareholders are not pleased with the dividends, the Chicago Relief Committee will take them without any discount. We venture the remark without any consultation with the Committee.

The eastern markets are steady. Money easy upon call, but hard to get on time. Good names in New York and Philadelphia, 60 days or 4 months, sell at 10 per cent., which is quite as high as the rates with us. The Government bond list is without marked change. Gold continues weak, but steady at 111⅛@111¼. The Railway list shows more activity and in some cases a speculative demand. We note Western Union, Toledo & Wabash, Michigan Southern, Michigan Central and Rock Island more particularly. Cleveland & Pittsburgh is quiet. Dealers are waiting the result of the meeting on the 21st inst., before making large transactions.

—The question of insurance seems to be the greatest drawback to the rebuilding of Chicago. The insurance companies look upon all risks there as extra hazardous, and are disposed to charge enough premium to cover the risk, while the public at large are not disposed to patronize a company which has large risks in Chicago. The Tribune says:

"We are informed that a number of the proprietors of grain elevators in this city have purchased steam fire engines for their buildings. They have also purchased, and will at once put into each elevator, a steam pump, by means of which water can be forced in large quantities to each floor, where, with plug and hose, the force of the establishment can promptly put out any fire originating in the building, and can protect the building from fire occurring in the vicinity. The entire building, inside and out, can be flooded with water if necessary. The danger from fire from within is so very slight that these precautions will render the buildings and contents entirely safe from a fire of that kind, while they can also keep the metal coated buildings so constantly wet as to prevent their burning from any ordinary fire from without. Having provided their buildings with all the protection that human agency can devise, they can afford to discontinue insurance."

These precautions (says the Cincinnati Gazette) are very well, but after all, can the elevators or the merchants who store grain in them, afford to do without insurance? Will the banks discount paper based upon grain which is not insured? or can a Chicago merchant obtain credit if he cannot obtain insurance?

Gold has been rather heavy; opened at 111⅛ and closed at 111⅛@111⅛; on loans the rate was flat at 1 to 5 per cent. for carrying. The daily clearances were $38,000,000. Money easy at from 4 to 6 per cent. Governments opened steady, but later in the day became strong and all closed firm. Currency bonds were in some little demand at 113⅜@113⅝. In State bonds, Tennessee issues were very strong, with but few, if any, transactions; Missouri sixes were very firm; new South Carolinas were entirely neglected on first call, but on second call sold at 31@31⅜. Stocks opened firm, but during the afternoon the market somewhat receded; Western Union was noticeably strong all day; the principal dealings were in New York Central, Northwestern, Ohio, Wabash, Pacific Mail, Western Union and Rock Island; the tone of the market was strong at the close.

APPLE BUTTER—Is quoted at 65@70 cts per gallon for good to prime; common is not wanted and hard to sell at any price.

BUTTER—The supply of prime is light and with a good demand it sells readily at 20@22. Common and medium is dull with a supply considerably in excess of the demand.

RIVER NEWS.

A rise under the influence of the rain yesterday is pretty confidently expected, and it is earnestly hoped that these expectations may be fully realized. Rain fell almost without cessation all day, and if it rained as hard up the Allegheny and Monongahela rivers as it did here, a rise of several feet is almost certain. Up to last evening, the river at this point had not risen very much, though it was rising slowly with about 36 inches in the channel.

The Mary Davage and Wild Duck, which boats have been laid up below here for several months, waiting for water, are expected to arrive within the next two days.

The John F. Tolle and San Juan, will load for New Orleans.

It is not likely that the Lorena will ever turn a wheel, as Capt. Evans contemplates transferring her machinery to a new boat now under contract.

—We clip the following from the Sioux City Journal, of the 10th: The steamer Far West, which cleared from this city on the 2d inst. for the Whetstone Indian Agency with a cargo of flour, returned on yesterday, making the trip in just one week. She left the Whetstone Agency on the 7th, and tied up for the night at Bon Homme Island. On the night of the 8th she laid at Hedges & Granger's woodyard, and arrived here at noon on yesterday. This is the last trip of the Far West. Her Captain informed us on yesterday that she would now go into winter quarters at this place, so as to be ready to make the first Benton trip next season.

The Far West brought down no news of the steamers now up the river, but it is confidently expected that the Ackley and Peninah, from Fort Rice, will reach here to-day or to-morrow.

—The Marietta and St. Mary's packet Eagle, Captain Berry, was snagged and sunk just above Newport, on Wednesday evening. While making her landing at Newport, she struck a rock, but not knowing the extent of the damage caused by it, backed into deep water and commenced sinking. The pilot undertook to run her ahead to a bar just above, but her rudder becoming entangled in the wreck of a sunken skiff, it was rendered impossible to do so. An expeditious removal of freight and passengers into a flat alongside was commenced and accomplished, when the Eagle disappeared, except her extreme upper works, in deep water. The boat was insured for $3,600.

—The Memphis Packet company are now receiving freight for the Memphis and Little Rock R. R. and will give through bills of lading at river rates. A. S. Livermore, General superintendent, says: "The press of freights being over, all freight consigned to this road, either by rail at Memphis, or by river from St. Louis, New Orleans, etc., can come forward promptly.

—The St. Louis Democrat of Monday says: Capt. Thorwegan informs us the Great Republic will come to the wharf on Tuesday, and soon thereafter leave for New Orleans. He avers, and we do not doubt the statement, that she is the prettiest steamer afloat, and the finest that will ever be seen upon the Mississippi. She is well worth a visit from any one.

—The great wharfage case of J. W. Cannon vs. the City was to have been argued before Judge Dibble at New Orleans, last Thursday, by Mr. King for plaintiff. This is a suit, merely a test question as to the rights of the city to trammel commerce by such an odious and unjust collection as levee dues are.

—The towboat Petrel, formerly belonging to the St. Louis Tow Company, was sold at St. Louis, Saturday, at Marshal's sale, for $3,000, and purchased by the Dock Company, to whom she owed $8,000 for repairs.

—There is nothing later from the sunken Mollie McPike. The wrecking boat Aid went up on Friday to examine the wreck, and if it is thought it can be raised, a contract will be made and the work be commenced at once.

—The Great Republic was to have commenced loading at St. Louis for New Orleans on Monday.

—The Juniata and Arlington have again been placed in the Cincinnati and St. Louis packet trade by the mail company, and the Anna, Exchange and Abeona having been released from their charter, will be laid up.

—There will be 2,000 copies of the proceedings of the Louisville Convention printed, in pamphlet form, for general distribution among steamboatmen.

—In a storm at Charleston, on the Kanawha, on Friday, a barge loaded with coal belonging to the Shrewsbury Brothers was sunk by the waves, and is a total loss.

—Capt. H. H. Down is looking for a steamboat to put in the Marietta and Pittsburgh trade on the opening of navigation.

—Capt. T. C. McSweeny, formerly of the St. Marys, has contracted at Wheeling for a new low-water boat, to be ready by next season. He will probably place her in some of the southern trades during the winter.

—The Ada Hellman has lost money in the Memphis trade and in consequence has gone to Evansville to lay up.

—The New Orleans Wrecking Companys' steamer Osage has gone to the wreck of the Wade Hampton, with a prospect of saving 1,000 bale cotton.

—The Lower Ohio packets are about to adopt the restaurant system on their boats. The Fayette will begin to-day, Wm. Steele, late of the Arkansas Belle, officiating.

—One flatboat at Patriot, three at Florence, and three at Leglick, are about ready to start south.

—The Vevay Democrat speaks of a steamboat being towed to Madison to have her bustle repaired.

HOME NEWS.

Committed for Trial.—A hearing took place before the Mayor yesterday in the case of the three boys, Buttinger, Cavanagh and McGraw, who are charged with entering the cigar store of Americus Force and stealing a quantity of cigars. The two first named of the accused were committed for trial, and McGraw was discharged.

Larceny of a Trunk.—Yesterday Wm. Henry Jones appeared before the Mayor and made an information charging Thomas Biglow with larceny, alleging that the accused did steal a hand trunk valued at two dollars. The prosecutor is barkeeper at the tavern at No. 2 Grant street, and the accused was a boarder in the house. Biglow was arrested and locked up for a hearing.

Explosion of a Still.—The alarm of fire about five o'clock last evening, from Box 84, corner of Butler and Fifty-fifth streets, was occasioned by the explosion of a still in the Standard Oil Works, near Fifty-fifth street. There was but trifling loss incurred, the fire being suppressed before the arrival of the engines on the ground. $500, at the utmost, will cover the loss of the still and its contents.

The Western University.

The next term of this Institution will commence on Wednesday, the 14th inst.

The Preparatory Department under L. Ludden, A. M., with the assistance of six gentlemen, affords the best advantages for preparing for business or college.

The Collegiate Course is the same as that of our oldest colleges. Students in Engineering are taught theoretically and practically. Lectures will commence next term, in Geology and Chemistry. Students in Analytical Chemistry will receive every attention.

The Custom House.

Yesterday the Hon. A. B. Mullett, supervising architect of government buildings, was in the city and paid a visit of inspection to he Custom House. A number of changes are proposed in the interior arrangements of the building—the principal one of which will be a skylight in the court room, which is, as it stands at present, about as dingy and dark as a room can be. The Inspector seems to be of the opinion that Pittsburgh needs a new Custom House and Postoffice building, and thinks the want will be supplied within a few years.

Felonious Assault.

Officer J. D. Hoerr appeared at Deputy Mayor Nichols office and charged Leopold Hart, a resident of the Fifteenth ward with felonious assault and battery. The officer alleges that upon his attempting to arrest the accused at his house on Saturday evening, on an attachment issued by the Court, he resisted him, finally attacking him with a large butcher-knife and driving him out of the house. Mayor Nichols issued a warrant and Hart was yesterday arrested. He gave bail in the sum of $1500 for a hearing on to-morrow morning.

Kindness to Animals.

Kindness in the treatment of animals—especially of horses—is now very generally substituted for the harshness and severity which were formerly practiced. We have observed, with great satisfaction, the extent to which this change has taken place. It is not among the educated people alone, but it pervades the stables generally, and is noticeable among hostlers and stable boys.

Men are still persecuted, maltreated and slaughtered, and wars are as cruel and inhuman as ever; but it is a pleasure to feel that dumb beasts, at least, are more kindly treated.

Personal.

Governor Geary has reappointed our worthy friend and neighbor Max Schamberg, to the office of Notary Public for the term of three years.

We congratulate Mr. S. to his notarial honors.

In connection with his extensive European collection business, this office is a very acceptable adjunct to our enterprising neighbor, for this and his many other branches of trans-Atlantic business.

For the accommodation of the Smithfield street merchants and bankers, Mr. S. is also prepared to probate accounts, to take acknowledgments, affidavits, &c.

Annual Elections.

The Chartiers and Robinson Turnpike Company was organized yesterday morning by the election of the following officers: President, Rody Patterson; Treasurer, Captain F. Dohrman; Secretary, David McGonigle. Directors—Col. Joseph Brown, John A. McKee, Thomas L. Duff, and James K. P. Duff.

At a meeting of the stockholders of the Western Insurance Company, held yesterday afternoon, the following Directors were elected to serve during the ensuing term: Alexander Nimick, Reuben Miller, Jr., Andrew Ackley, Alexander Speer, David M. Long, John R. McCune, Charles J. Clarke, Wm. S. Evans, Joseph Kirkpatrick, Philip Reymer, Wm. Morrison, Domenec Ihmsen, H. Sellers McKee.

Little Boy Poisoned.

On Monday a little German boy named Rudolph was poisoned in Allegheny by eating jimson weed. During the afternoon he had gone to the residence of a Mr. Hoffman and was playing with the two little sons of Mr. H. While at play one of the Hoffman boys discovered a jimson weed, which is rank poison in its effects. Plucking the pod he asked little Rudolph to eat it, who refused at first and his companions, not satisfied, compelled him to put it in his mouth and swallow it. He soon became very sick and was taken to his home, 120 Chestnut street, where he was waited upon by Drs. Walter and Zwinger, who succeeded in removing the poison from his stomach. His condition, however, at last accounts, was very critical.

Arrested at Last.

Our readers will perhaps remember, the account published in our columns some months ago of a difficulty which occurred at the Allegheny Gas Works on the 9th of May, between Mike Dunlevy and Joseph Gardner, employees of the Company which resulted in the former striking the latter about the head with a shovel; wounding him so seriously that for a time his life was dispaired of. A charge of felonious assault and battery was preferred before Mayor Callow at the time and a warrant issued for Dunlavey's arrest, who managed, however, to evade the officers and make his escape. It was lately ascertained, however, that the accused was working in Sharon and Officer Wier being dispatched to that place, on yesterday arrested the offender and brought him back to Allegheny where he now awaits a hearing.

A Small-Pox Incident.

An incident occurred at the Mayor's office in Allegheny, last evening, which had the effect, for the time being, to render that abode of Justice entirely destitute of the wonted presence of the gentlemanly loafers who, of evenings, congregate there or thereabouts. A young German girl called at the office about seven o'clock and modestly requested an interview with His Honor. Upon being ushered into the o'ershadowing presence of that official, she blandly informed him that she was affected to an unpleasant degree with that mild, and yet eminently of a character in which distance lends enchantment, disease, varioloid. Her statement being promulgated it was indeed passing strange to the casual observer to notice in how short a time the lookers on, without exception, had sundry seven o'clock engagements recalled to their minds. The Mayor, having been inoculated, but yet with a dim suffused blush of fear o'ermantling his benign brow, and with a convulsive tremor scarce noticeable, ordered that the city ambulance be instructed to appear forthwith at the office, en route for the new Hospital, pending which, the young lady became seated and the reporters resorted to other sources for items of news.

CITY EXECUTIVE COMMITTEE.

Meeting Yesterday—The Issue of an Address Ordered.

The City Executive Committee met yesterday afternoon at the Lincoln Club Room on Smithfield Street. The President, Mr. Robert Elliott, occupied the chair, with Messrs. M. F. Egan and William J. Deihl as Secretaries

The only business transacted was the passage of a resolution instructing the secretaries to issue an address to the Republican voters of the city, defining the issues of the campaign and setting forth the relative merits of the various candidates for municipal offices.

RUNAWAY ACCIDENT.

Two Men Seriously Injured.

On Monday evening a frightful runaway, which was accompanied with painful and perhaps fatal results occurred near Banksville. Mr. George Archibald, Mr. McVeigh, his brother-in-law, and Mr. Weaver, all residents of Banksville, who had been attending a public sale on the old Washington road, were returning home between seven and eight o'clock, in a light spring wagon. While descending a hill the harness gave way and the horse ran off at a frightful rate, throwing them all out, Mr. A. alighting on his head. The men were taken to their homes and attended by Drs. Wilson and Graham. It was discovered that Mr. Archibald had sustained some severe bruises about the body, and, it is feared that he was injured internally. Mr. McVeigh's left left leg was fractured just above the ankle, and the bones protruded through the flesh. He was otherwise badly hurt, and his condition is considered rather critical. Mr. Weaver was only slightly bruised.

RELIEF CONTRIBUTIONS.

What the South Side People Have Done—Relief from Other Sources.

The South Side contributions to the fire relief fund, amounting to $5,310.92, were paid over to Mr. Pears yesterday. When we take into consideration the fact that the wealthy business men of that side paid in their heavy subscriptions to the treasurers of relief funds in the city, and that the above sum was made up mainly from small contributions by citizens in moderate circumstances, it will be admitted that the South Side has done nobly. The amount, as stated, is $5,310.92.

At a meeting of the South Side Relief Committee, it was unanimously resolved to give half the above contributions ($2,655.46) to the Chicago Relief Fund, and the other half ($2,655.46) to the Northwestern Relief Fund.

Mr. Thomas B. Atterbury, Secretary and Treasurer of the South Side Fund, holds the following receipt, which shows that the money has been paid over in accordance with the resolution of the committee:

"Received of Thomas B. Atterbury, Treasurer of the South Side Relief Fund, five thousand three hundred and ten dollars and ninety-two cents, and according to request I have paid to Mayor Brush, Treasurer of the Northwestern Fund, $2,655.46.

"JOHN P. PEARS, Treasurer."

The contributions at the Mayor's office for the Northwest sufferers were as follows:

Dunbar, Fayette & Co	$ 125 00
Employees of Park Bros. & Co	163 25
South Side	2,655 42
Hart, Caughey & Co	200 00
Tradesmen's National Bank	300 00
Second National Bank	250 00

"THE MODEL WIFE."

Some Thoughts Concerning Her—An Ancient Portraiture—Her Prominent Excellencies—Her Inestimable Value—Compliments to the Worthy Dames—And Advice to the Belles—From the Stage of Library Hall—By the Rev. A. A. Willetts.

The rains fell and the winds blew, and great was the inclemency of the weather last evening, which caused a despondency to settle down upon the managers of the Library Lecture Course, through fear that the elements had combined to interfere with the success—pecuniary success—of their second lecture for the current season; but their mourning was changed into gladness, tinged slightly, perhaps, with hilarity, as the hour for the commencement of the entertainment drew on apace, and the young men and maidens, and elderly dames and grave and reverend seignors came thronging into their beautiful hall, so fast that in a brief time "down stairs" there was no room to spare. Still they came, and then the balcony was thrown open and it was nearly filled long before there was the slightest indication of the appearance of the lecturer. And so in the end, notwithstanding the efforts of the elements, there was gathered as large, and as pretty, and as appreciative, and withal as fashionable an audience as any speaker need wish to see.

Rev. Mr. Willets was somehow slow of coming, but at last, shortly after eight o'clock, he did appear, and was introduced by Mr. Howard. As he came forward, without mentioning his topic, which everybody knew was "the Model wife," he commenced his remarks by saying that the

and the inobtrusiveness of her actions, led man, as well as herself, ofttimes to vastly underrate her influence, and yet that influence was second to none other in the world. Through it, so quiet, so calm, ofttimes there came the richest blessings to the world, and yet all was so inobtrusive that there were few who practically—whatever they did in theory—recognized its power. It had a power; like some of those hidden forces of nature which are unseen are yet moving the world. It was these quiet influences which, after all, were the most practical and evidently the most useful. The noisy cataract, pouring, and roaring, and rushing, after all was not so useful as the gentle rill, meandering through the valley, and causing verdure and beauty to spring up all along its banks; the lightning's flash, beautiful and brilliant as it was, after all must yield the palm to the gentle evening taper which glowed within, and lit up the cottage wherein peace dwelt.

Yet the world generally overlooked these silent influences, and mankind was usually impressed with that which made a noise. The orator, the warrior, the millionaire, attracted the world's applause. Too few stopped to think of those influences which gathered around the home circle; yet the light of that home circle would ever be the guiding star of man's best destiny, and the presiding genius over his happiness. It was well, then, for men sometimes to turn away from the noisier scenes of every day life, to call their minds away for an hour to the contemplation of the quiet scenes of domestic life, of the sweet influences which were centered in and radiated from the home circle, and upon which so much of the world's happiness depends.

The speaker then referred to his topic—and said that it was a remarkable fact that the best portraiture of that estimable lady was to be found in the sacred volume, and that it was limned by a woman, and formed the most beautiful portraiture in the Holy Book. The wife described was the model woman—the model wife of that age; for the present age, and for that, for all time to come. Such women were rare in those days—one of those jewels which are as priceless as they are beautiful, yet there were and are such women, and the picture was no fancy sketch.

The speaker then read part of the last chapter of Proverbs, commencing with the words "Who can find a virtuous (woman) wife? for her price is far above rubies," in which the many excellencies of the model wife in were fully detailed. Basing his argument upon this scripture portraiture, he continued saying that the greatest genius for centuries had been employed in extolling the virtues of the model woman; painting and sculpture and poetry had all been taxed, but he doubted if any Mausoleum of art could show such a perfect picture as that delineated in the quaint language of the ancient Hebrew.

In an analysis of this character, the first point which attracted the attention—the first element of the virtuous wife's character seemed to be her industry. The whole picture was lighted up with activity. There was not a particle of laziness about her. Particular stress seemed to be laid on this particular, for eleven verses, nearly half of the description, was taken up in a description of her distinguishing superiority in this respect. Her industry was unbounded. She

SUPERINTENDED HER HOUSEHOLD AFFAIRS.

"She riseth while it is yet night and giveth meat to her household." She thus set the example of industry, directing all household affairs herself, and at proper times working with her own hands. Might not the delicate daughters of the land nowadays profit by a contemplation of such a pattern? Nowadays somehow the foolish idea was entertained that it was vulgar to work; that no "lady" worked; a "lady" was horrified at the thought. They never did any work. Common people used their hands in that way,—but none but common people did. Yes and Common people eat and sometimes "ladies" had to do that (laughter.) There were some things which were quite valuable, even if they were common. It was a valuable faculty to have a heart and hand for honest toil. A great many common things were valuable—and among them was common sense, (great laughter.) The "model wife" of the ancient Hebrew had no such idea, for "she girdeth her loins with strength and strengtheneth her arms;" some of the fair, fragil, lovely creatures in these days, also "girdeth" themselves not with work but—whalebone. (Laughter).

THE LILY OF TO-DAY.

The ancient model wife "strengtheneth" herself by the exercise of toil, which brought the rose color to her cheek. In these days they preferred the lily to the rose, and modern belles were determined to appear as lilies, even if it took vast quantities of lily white (renewed merriment), and when they were all finished, of a truth it might be said of them that "Solomon in all his glory was not arrayed like one of these." [Great laughter and applause.]

"The model wife" of ancient time further manifested her industry by "making the clothing for her husband." It was the pride of Augustus Cæsar that his imperial robe was made in his own household by his sister and wife; and so of Alexander, he was always proud of the garments he wore, as exhibiting the handicraft of his "good dame." So it is a modern conceit that industry is vulgar—and one of the shoddiest of all conceits.

THE "MODEL'S" PREPARATION.

If young ladies then wished to be neither sad nor sullen, not delicate, but healthful with their hearts filled with cheerfulness; if they wished to prepare for being model wives they should cultivate industry. If he (the speaker) could sing and were asked to sing to one of these pale-faced beauties, it would be the song of the street boys, "Buy a Broom," "Buy a Broom," (laughter) and use it; use it until the blood should tingle in all their veins. He would encourage them to serve up and dust and cook—to roll up their sleeves and plunge their snowy arms into the snowy meal and learn to be ever ready for the day of knead. (Laughter.)

The next observable trait in the model wife was

NEATNESS AND TASTE.

The model wife was neither a sloven nor a drudge. "Her husband is known in the gates" it was said; why, should he be known before all others. Because first he was a gentleman, for he acquired from intercourse with her, gentleness of demeanor; a model woman could make something of a pretty rough character sometimes, if she got a clean sweep at him. Her husband was also known "in the gates" because of the general neatness of his appearance—and this was her doings.

"A good wife is made, the old song declares,
To smooth down our linen and also our cares."

Her husband was also known by his cheerfulness—cheerful because he felt happy, and this all came indirectly from his wife's neat habits and taste. He never went out without she first inspected him, and then satisfied with his appearance, sent him off with a kiss, telling him to "hurry home." [Great laughter.] How could such a man help being noticed—a monument to his wife's neatness and taste.

But this faculty went further than that and combined with system and order made her home attractive. It was a pleasure to enter her house, so purified with cleanliness, and so "lighted up" as it were with good taste. Neatness and taste were everywhere manifest, and yet the house was made so attractive with so little draught on the husband's purse that he was often compelled to say to an intimate friend, "It beat's the Dutch how she does it" (laughter). Yet it was done and all by the model wife's cunning fingers.

HOW SHE ARRAYETH HERSELF.

And then the wife herself forgot not to array herself in accordance with her surroundings. "She maketh herself coverings of tapestry; her clothing is silk and purple," not extravagantly, but always neatly; her raiment was such as a model wife should have. Neatness and taste were her watchwords. A hundred devices were resorted to in carrying out her idea, and yet all was from her own hand, for "She layeth her hand to the spindle." These might be little things, but much of the happiness of life rested in these little things.

If a young man was attracted to a young woman by these little attractions of neatness in dress and taste &c., wooed and won her, and then after marriage found them all laid aside—there would almost inevitably be unhappiness in that household if not positive trouble. The young man would feel like the Irishman who shot at a bird and upon going to pick it up found a toad, which he mournfully soliloquized over as a "beautiful bird afore I shot the feathers off" (laughter.) If marriage was the shot which scattered these feathers of woman's taste, the hymeneal ceremony had better never be performed. (Applause.)

HEADS AND HANDS.

The third faculty of the model wife was frugal and thrifty management—tact. There was such a thing as industry without tact. Some people, like the grasshopper, always jumped first and looked where to light afterwards, and they generally came down in the mud. God had given heads as well as hands. A model wife used both; thought out her work and then worked out her thought. Setting up a good table was an evidence of this—some women displayed rare tact in this little matter. Some of the strong-minded, when told about cooking,

TURNED UP THEIR PRETTY NOSES,

as if "a man's heart was always to be reached through his stomach," [Laughter]. It was not, but this was a pretty sure way. [Laughter.] Just here some might ask how a woman was to keep up all this? He could not tell. He knew it was done though, and that it could be done. In New England they had a family phrase which explained it—that was "Gumption!" [Laughter]. That was a faculty that saved a thousand strokes and made every stroke tell. "Great is Gumption!" A woman might be a philosopher, might be a scientist, a poetess, be thoroughly proficient in all other knowledge, and yet without "gumption" it profiteth her nothing." (Great laughter.) A woman who had this "Gumption" had one of the greatest elements of the model wife's character. "The heart of the husband doth safely trust her." That meant that a man need not do any questionable thing to keep up his household—to support home extravagance. Many a man by this fatal want at home has been led into speculation and then peculations which resulted in ruin—all in the vain endeavor to keep up a household over which presided a woman without "Gumption."

THE MODEL WIFE'S ADVICE.

And many a man has had his honor, his fortune, his business saved by the good counsels of his guardian angel. (Applause.) He has found in her a quick ear to hear his trouble, received from her practical suggestions and encouragement, and gone forth not to fail but to win in the battle of life. Many men said, "Oh what do women know about business, let them attend to the babies." These men say you cannot counsel unless you have a practical knowledge of affairs. People, then, should not discuss capital punishment until they had tried hanging. [Laughter.] The model wife's counsel was always safe.

The next trait of the model wife was

HER SYMPATHY AND BENEVOLENCE.

"She stretcheth out her hand to the poor." This was one of the most beautiful traits in her character. By the exercise of this faculty woman has won her greatest laurels. [Applause.] There was no masculine trait that could be exchanged for it. One "manly man" had thus rendered a tribute to this crowning glory of woman:

Maid of my love, sweet Geneviere
In beauty's light you glide along;
Your eye is like the star of eve,
And sweet your voice as Seraph's song.
Yet not your heavenly beauty gives
This heart with passion soft to glow;
Within your soul a voice there lives,
It bids you hear the tale of woe.
When sinking low the sufferer wan
Beholds no hand outstretched to save
Fair, as the bosom of the swan
That rises graceful o'er the wave.
I've seen your breast with pity heave,
And therefore love I you sweet Genevieve.
(Applause.)

There is no trait so charming; no jewel from the mine or pearl from the sea that shines with such a lustre as the tear of sympathy that steals adown the cheek of woman. [Applause.] No victory in the field or vantage to be gained by the ballot equalled the triumphs which came to woman through the influence of this heaven-born faculty.

The last trait of the model wife was

WISDOM AND KINDNESS.

"She openeth her mouth with wisdom, and on her tongue is the law of kindness." The management of the tongue and temper was a great faculty to be acquired. Some one said he had seen a storm at sea and a storm at home, and he preferred the former. [Laughter.] There were some wives whose tongues rendered the lives of their husbands miserable. They were the "figety" women of whom one had said, when told that he had a treasure of a wife, "that she was a treasure," but he sometimes wanted to "lay up his treasure in Heaven." [Applause and laughter.]

Then "upon her lips was wisdom." A woman's might was in gentleness: by it she could control. Many women by gentleness led their husbands any way, while the good man supposed he was leading all the time. He believed a wife should rule, but the model wife never showed she ruled. [Laughter.]

HER THEATRE.

The speaker, having thus enumerated the many points of excellence possessed by "the model wife," concluded with a review of the picture, on which he dwelt with much force and beauty of argument and language on the two points, the model wife's theatre of activities, and the fruits of her efforts. The home was her theatre where she exercised these noble traits. "Home, Sweet Home," was the grandest sphere for woman's work. There was no higher sphere. In it God had given to woman the highest throne in the world. He had given her there the key of the soul. (Applause). Therefore should she be crowned "True Mother, the Queen of the World." (Applause). And if she was true to her duty then "her praise would be in the gates." She could not get this meed of praise in the political field, in the forum, on the field of battle. The home was her theatre, and if she were but true to her duty then the fruits of her efforts would be that "her children would rise up and call her blessed, her husband also; and he praiseth her." She would be given of "the fruits of her hands and her own works would praise her in the gates" (applause.)

THE NEXT LECTURE.

The lecture occupied about an hour and a half in its delivery, and was received with every evidence of pleasure—the many hits being cordially applauded. We have rarely seen an audience better pleased, and the speaker increased greatly in favor with our lecture-going community through the medium of his "Model Wife."

The next lecture of the course will be delivered November 30th, by Dr. John Lord.

Mr. Hamilton of the Committee on High School, presented a report, recommending that the necessary apparatus for making chemical experiments, be ordered by the Board, so as to make the scholars proficient in practical chemistry. They also recommended that essays be written every three weeks instead of every two weeks. Both recommendations were accepted and the Committee authorized to purchase the necessary apparatus.

Mr. Hartman of the colored school Committee presented a series of rules for the government of the school, which after several amendments being made were finally adopted.

Mr. Nobbs, from the Committee on Teachers and Salaries, reported that a primary teacher had been allowed for each of the Highland and Grant sub-districts, and also that it had been agreed to pay drawing teachers $300 per annum. Action of committee approved.

Mr. Nobbs, of the committee appointed to audit the accounts of the Board, reported that they had discharged their duties, and found the accounts correct. In view of the unsatisfactory manner of collecting the delinquent school tax, and of keeping the accounts, between the treasurer and the collectors, the committee recommended that the law be so amended that the City Treasurer be required to settle with the Central Board on the first of November of each year, and that the Central and Local Boards collect all taxes for school purposes unpaid on that date.

On motion, the recommendations of the committee were approved. A committee consisting of Messrs. Craig, Hartman and Nobbs, were appointed, to carry out the recommendations of the auditing committee.

On motion of Mr. Craig, the City Superintendent was authorized to have 1,500 copies of his annual report printed.

On motion, adjourned.

First Ward, Allegheny School.

A few contractors have made up their minds that we ought to have a new school house. Will they please tell us why? Is not the present one large enough, well ventilated, and in every way suitable for school purposes. Our school taxes are now fifteen mills on the dollar; one and a half per cent. on the entire valuation of the ward. What will they be if one hundred thousand dollars are expended in erecting a new school house which is not needed? I do hope this unnecessary expense will not be insisted on. If a new school house is needed, of course, it would be built; but do we need one? Is not our present one perfectly satisfactory? Does any one urge a new one except a few who are interested in the building or furnishing of it? Are our officers going crazy in this absurd and vain scramble in trying to outstrip each other in running us in debt and expending vast sums of money? I have two children now at this school, and it seems to me it is well suited for the purpose, and I vote against a new one, when it is not needed.

CRAIG STREET.

Must be Sold.

Within the next thirty days the entire stock of furniture in the large three story furniture warehouse of C. A. Boucher & Co., 45 Smithfield street, must be closed out. Here now, is an opportunity seldom offered. This stock of furniture is of the very best class, made for customer use, and comprises all the latest designs in parlor, library, office, chamber, dining room, and kitchen ware, made especially for Pittsburgh trade. As it is absolutely necessary to close out in thirty days, these goods will be offered for less than they can be manufactured for. Now is the time to secure bargains. Parties anticipating buying furniture in the spring can make forty per cent. on their money by buying at this thirty days' sale. Remember, 45 Smithfield street is the number.

CONSOLIDATED GAS NOT EXPLOSIVE.

An Answer from Their Superintendent—No Danger Whatever—Cheap Gas—Safe.

EDITORS GAZETTE: The article which appeared in most of the city papers a few days since, headed "Gas Question," and addressed to the "Honorable the Select and Common Council," signed "Tax Payer," was written in such a sarcastic spirit, and so pregnant with misrepresentations that it is not worthy of a reply were it not for the importance of disabusing the public mind on a matter that so deeply concerns every good citizen. We wish it, however, distinctly understood that we do not intend to enter into any controversy to abuse or misrepresent any other corporation we may chance to compete with, but simply to defend ourselves against any and all misrepresentations, which, of course, is our right and privilege to do. As coming from an outsider, who professes to be entirely disinterested, but tells us that he has taken the time and trouble to fully investigate matters pertaining to the old Gas Company, but why did he not take the same pains to as fully investigate the new system, being disinterested, before setting forth such gross errors? We must first, however, give him credit for some statements with regard to the old company which are no doubt correct. That they have fully come up to their engagements with the city, and they have furnished good gas, &c.; but when he speaks of their never having declared over 8½ per cent. dividends, he should have said further that the dividends were declared upon the market value of the stock, say $90.50, instead of upon $50, the par value, which is equivalent to 17½ per cent.

We might even go a little further here, that it is natural to suppose that there has been large cash dividends recently (as street rumor has it) as it is not probable that any stock whose par value is fifty dollars per share with only 8½ per cent. dividends, would go up to $90.50 market value.

Also, when he said that they declared no stock dividends, he should have said, that instead, they have been largely increasing the value of their real estate by increased capacity and extended mains.

He further states that the "P. R. R. Co. are not satisfied with their present monopolies, but wish to penetrate the bowels of the land of the city, and lay pipes charged with an explosive magazine, that may one day prove a holocaust of fire to eclipse even Chicago;" which is simply absurd.

We aver that the Pennsylvania Railroad Company have nothing to with the Consolidated Gas Company. If, through the sagacity of its officers, they can avail themselves of a cheaper light, with quite as good and as safe a gas, it certainly is their privilege to do so.

Now for the misrepresentation as to the new system by "those experimenters," which we shall have to handle gently lest it might explode, as would naturally be inferred from the assertions, or even the aspersions thrown out by your worthy correspondent. We fully agree with him, however, in regard to Pittsburgh being surrounded with her hills full of the best quality of bituminous coal, suitable for coke and gas, and abundance of carbonaceous material. As that is just what we propose to use, by manufacturing coke from the slack or fine coal, and then utilizing the heretofore waste smoke and gases passing off the ovens, by washing, condensing, purifying and carbonizing it; and which it is well-known is so detrimental to the health and comfort of the citizens, but upon this system is generated as pure, good and safe gas, as if manufactured upon the old retort system alone. Where is the difference therefore between the coke oven and retort for generating a permanent and fixed gas, and, as there is substantially more gas escaping in the shape of smoke from the coke ovens that are now in operation in the city than would supply two such cities as Pittsburgh. Why let it, not only go to waste, but darken and blacken one of the most prosperous and solid manufacturing cities in America.

But, as for refusing the very volatile and explosive compound, such as naptha, benzine or gasoline for carbonizing, as we are charged with, we do not have anything to do with either; nor yet the so-called Stratoga or Memphis process, as they do use naptha in carbonizing air.

We simply enrich or carbonize our coke oven gas (or hydrogen) with cannel coal, Richie Mineral, or any other carbonaceous material, in retorts, as if with bituminous coal alone, or if residium tar is used, it is retorted by the same degree of heat, and as safely as coal. The coke oven gas or hydrogen is a permanent fixed gas, and is carbonized by a fixed gas retorted by heat, and the affinity of the coke oven gas or hydrogen, for the fixed retorted carbon is so great that they readily unite, and not even a possibility of their recondensing, and as free from any explosive tendency as if retorted wholly by the old system. That the naptha, benzine or gasoline, or any of those volitile compounds is explosive we freely admit, and is not safe to handle—and, of course, is not fit or suitable for manufacturing gas for city purposes not only on account of its explosive character, but also upon its great tendency to recondense, as the gas, so called generated from them is only vaporized, and not a permanent fixed gas made by destructive distillation in heated retorts. We therefore claim that the gas generated upon our new system, is as pure, brilliant, safer and cheaper to manufacture than upon the ordinary or old system, notwithstanding Mr. Tax Payer asserts to the contrary.

Now, gentlemen, since we can manufacture gas cheaper upon our system than upon the old or ordinary retort system, we will furnish gas as good and safe, at much lower figures to all consumers. J. H. CONNELLY,
Supt. pro tem, Consolidated Gas Co.

PITTSBURGH OPERA HOUSE.—"Elfie, or the Cherry Tree Inn," was again presented last evening to an audience fully as large as that which witnessed its first production. The main characters of the play, "Sadlove," (Mr. Charles Wheatleigh,) "Elfie," (Mrs. Effie Ellsler,) and "Cairrup," (Mr. J. Newton Gotthold,) were admirably rendered, eliciting frequent demonstrations of delight on the part of the appreciative audience. The scenery is really superb, adding vastly to the interest of the piece. Our amusement going citizens should by all means witness this excellent drama. It will be repeated this evening.

FIFTH AVENUE OPERA HOUSE.—Another immense audience flocked to this establishment last evening, saw Emmet's "Fritz," and came away feeling generally that they would like to see "Fritz" again. They will have another opportunity to do so this evening, as Emmet has "kindly consented."

Notwithstanding the Chicago fire and the consequent derangement of business in certain circles, Pratt, the Allegheny Hatter, continues to sell at No. 107 Federal street, Allegheny, all the latest styles in hats and caps—being in receipt of the very latest novelties, as they appear from the manufactories in the east. CITY WATER SUPERINTENDENT.

Meeting of the Water Committee—James Hemphill Chosen Superintendent—Resolutions of Respect on Death of Mr. French.

By the action of Councils at their meeting on Monday, it was known that the Water Committee was empowered to appoint a Superintendent of the Water Works until the next annual election of the City Legislature. It was not generally known, however, that a meeting of the Water Committee was to take place last evening. Candidates for the position and their friends seemed to be aware of the meeting, but from an "understanding", thought to have been arrived at, there was but little pressure brought to bear upon members of the Committee, and there was a surprisingly small amount of "button-holing." The understanding referred to was that Mr. Joseph Lowry should be elected, and, as claimed, for several reasons. Among these were, the fact as stated, that Mr. Lowry knew probably more than any other man about the machinery of the works, and that at this trying period they would be safest in his hands. In addition to this he would not, likely, be a candidate for the position at the regular election in February, 1872.

The attendance of members of the committee was large, and notwithstanding the "arrangement" supposed to be fixed, there was considerable interest manifested in the business to be transacted.

Before the transaction of business, on motion of Mr. Geo. B. Chalmers, there were unanimously adopted the following

RESOLUTIONS OF RESPECT.

WHEREAS, the death of Joseph French, late Superintendent of the City Water Works, has deprived the Corporation of a valuable servant, this committee of an intimate associate, and the community of an upright and honored citizen, therefore

Resolved, That, recognizing the interposition of Divine Providence, we deeply deplore the loss of one who for over twenty years has rendered invaluable services to this city in a capacity requiring great mechanical abilities, and of a friend and associate whose qualities of head and heart endeared him to all.

Resolved further, That we acknowledge the faithfulness of deceased in the performance of duty and the unselfishness of his every action in the responsible capacity which he was called upon to fill; and

Resolved, That we tender our heartfelt sympathies to the family of deceased in this, their time of trial, and also our thanks to those who so faithfully administered to his wants in the hours of his last illness.

Resolved, That these resolutions of respect and condolence be entered upon the minutes of this committee, and that a copy be transmitted to the relatives of deceased.

SUCCESSOR OF MR. FRENCH.

The question of a choice of a successor to Mr. French, was then brought up and the names of Mr. James Hemphill and Joseph Lowry were proposed. Some discussion ensued during which it was clamed for Mr. Hemphill that he knew more than any other man about the works, and that he would only take the position temporarily and under no circumstances would become a candidate at the ensuing election. It appearing that the majority of the committee was in favor of Mr. Hemphill, he was chosen without a dissenting voice to fill the vacancy until the election of Council.

The routine business of the committee was then proceeded with, after which they adjourned.

EAST BIRMINGHAM COUNCIL.

Regular Meeting—Sanitary Matters Discussed—Burgess and Chief of Police Running Counter—Routine.

The East Birmingham Council last evening held a regular monthly meeting.

Present were Messrs. Diehl, Hahn, Haberman, Wharton, Ihmsen and Burgess Jones.

The minutes of the previous meeting were read and approved.

The committee appointed to confer with Birmingham Council in relation to hospital reported. Report received.

Mr. Hastings of Hastings & O'Neill asked that a warrant be drawn for $160 due the firm for paving. On motion warrant was ordered.

Dr. Wood, President of the Sanitary Committee being present made quite a lengthy report concerning the hospital, giving its dimensions &c., as already published in the GAZETTE. He also stated that it was now decided to build a better structure than was at first proposed. He hoped that Council would not leave a stone unturned to get it completed as soon as possible and that they would furnish the needed means therefor without delay. This week, so far, there are twenty-one cases of small-pox in East Birmingham, seventeen of a decrease since last week. He related two distressing cases in boarding houses in the borough, that would be turned out. One of them is on Jane street the other in a boarding house on Railroad street, where he had been boarding for eleven years past, and the proprietor stated positively that he would put him out on Wednesday. The speaker had written to the Directors of the Poor about the cases, but had as yet received no answer. He said it was his opinion that if there had been a hospital on the South Side for some time, there would have been several lives saved, as many have died on account of inattention at boarding houses, for the people at those houses could not imperil their own lives. He suggested that all the boroughs meet for the purpose of erecting a permanent hospital.

Burgess Atkinson, of Ormsby, being present, stated that their Council had not yet taken any action in the matter of a hospital.

Mr. Ihmsen moved that the Councils of East Birmingham, Birmingham, Ormsby and St. Clair boroughs, appoint committees to negotiate for the purchase of property whereon to build a permanent hospital. Carried.

Mr. Haberman moved that a committee from East Birmingham be appointed to meet the Councils of other boroughs on the subject of erecting a permanent hospital. Carried.

Justice Heisel being present, made a statement about the prevalence of small-pox and cited those two instances which Dr. Wood had brought up. He urged that if the hospital will not be finished for some days, a house be rented. He stated that as high as 20 persons were in his office yesterday desiring a place to go to.

Chief of Police Miller being present, asked Council to state what the duties of the Chief of Police are. It seems that there is some difficulty between the Chief and Burgess on the question of jurisdiction. The ordinance was read.

The Chief then stated that police had been taken off their beats without his knowledge.

The whole matter was referred to a committee of three to investigate the matter. Messrs. Wharton, Ihmsen and Haberman were appointed.

On motion of Mr. Ihmsen the Finance Committee was authorized to have the new Council Chamber furnished with the necessary furniture.

The Burgess reported that since the last report three members of the police force have been discharged. Two of them for being off their beats when they should have been there, and one for drunkenness. The salaries of the police for the last month amounted to $292.67.

A number of bills were then read and warrants for the same ordered to be drawn.

Mr. Wharton moved that the clerk of Council get a detailed account from the Treasurer of the Sanitary Committee, of the expenditures of their $500 fund. Carried.

Messrs. Ihmsen, Hahn and Wharton were appointed a committee to confer with the various South Side boroughs, in relation to a permanent hospital on the South Side.

On motion adjourned.

POLICE NOTES.

Brief Mention of Criminalities Yesterday.

Annie E. Butler charged Mary Sewell with disorderly conduct. Alderman Butler issued a warrant.

Alderman Thomas issued a warrant for Bridget Graham, charged by her husband, John, with committing assault and battery on Penora, daughter of John, by a former wife. The parties reside in Soho, and the little girl is not more than ten years old.

Sarah Casey furnished bail for a hearing at Alderman Donaldson's office on a charge of larceny preferred by Kate Burns. Kate's mother rented a room from Sarah's mother on High street, and it is alleged that while the old lady was away, nursing Kate's child, who had the small-pox, Sarah fearing the disease would be brought to the house, threw out and carried away goods and clothing belonging to Kate and her mother.

Mayor Callow issued a warrant for the arrest of M. J. Clark, charged with the seduction of Kate McNally, aged about seventeen years, under promise of marriage. The information was made by the grandmother of the young girl.

James K. Polk Harkins was brought before the Mayor again, charged with disorderly conduct by Charles Harbaugh, keeper of a tavern near the Point. It was alleged that James went to the prosecutor's house on Sunday and demanded liquor, and when he was refused, attacked the proprietor of the place in the most unjustifiable manner. The Mayor sent him to the Work House for four months.

Allen Carter appeared before Alderman Smith, of the Third ward, Allegheny, and charged John A. Pearson and William Weir with a conspiracy to defraud him out of a gold watch. The watch, Carter alleges, was held as security for the payment of a debt owed him by Pearson, it being handed over to Weir, who claimed he had authority to recover it. Warrants issued.

Johnny Robinson was taken from the jail to the penitentiary, and Rose Hartman went up to the workhouse yesterday.

A colored girl, named Laura Johnston, living on the "hill," entered suit before Alderman McMasters against Ed. Holloway, a porter in a sleeping car on the Fort Wayne Road, for stealing four dollars from her while she was asleep. An officer is after Edward.

Alderman Smith, of Allegheny, issued a warrant for one Johnson, charged by Louisa Smith with the larceny of a terrier dog. Warrant issued.

Justice J. P. Heisel, of East Birmingham, issued a warrant for the arrest of George Sparks charged with assault and battery and attempt to commit rape on the person of Ann Sparks.

"Skip" Morgan and William Weidner are charged by Adam Hicks, with maliciously breaking into his premises, stealing a valuable dog and insulting and abusing his wife. Justice Heisel issued a warrant.

Larceny as bailee is the charge in each of two prosecutions entered before Alderman McMasters by Ellen Miller yesterday—one against Daniel Donahue, the other against Mrs. McNulty. Oil paintings worth $40 are alleged to be in Donahue's possession, and a "what not" valued at $14 in Mrs. McNulty's hands, all of which the prosecutor claims. Warrants issued.

At the Mayor's office James Johnston charged Wm. Butler with the larceny of a carpet bag and contents werth $45. The accused is supposed to be in Ohio, whither the prosecutor started with a warrant in his possession.

Prince Albert.

A beautiful quality of Black Alpaca, imported by a leading Philadelphia house, and bearing the above name, is worthy the attention of our lady readers, and all who purchase this desirable and cheap fabric for dresses and suits. They have already become widely popular in the East, and we believe them superior to any other make of Alpaca. The main point of excellence is their beautiful shade and texture, and, being finished so perfectly on both sides, they admit of being turned after long service, without loss of color or freshness. Our attention was drawn to these goods at Messrs. J. B. HEARD & Co's., who are introducing them in this market. We were shown very pretty qualities at thirty to fifty cents. WFS.
